

Essential aspects of personal data protection

A lecture on the Essential aspects of personal data protection was presented in the offices of AK Balcar, Polanský & Spol. s.r.o. in Bratislava on 22 March 2016. The presenting attorneys approached the topic from the perspective of current Slovak legislation, however, they also addressed further developments in this dynamically growing field in light of the General Data Protection Regulation, which is currently expected to be adopted as new European law. The Regulation is now a "hot topic" among personal data protection compliance experts as radical changes are expected in this area and the Regulation will be directly binding for the Slovak Republic and all entrepreneurs operating therein.

The lecture was attended by our clients as well as representatives from external local and multinational companies and the feedback was positive. Via this channel we will keep you informed about future planned events addressing different current business topics.
